OPPORTUNITY AND ABILITY.

"Fagan", the $50,000 story in Collier's, is a good one but we venture to say that if the author was compelled to place his copy on the market and accept the price which would be offered for it, outside of a contest, he would feel amply repaid with a check in the hundreds.

He had ability, and the opportunity presented itself. He won. Be "Johnny on the Spot."

Just so with every one of us.

SEA GAZING IN BERMUDA.

Wonderful Life of Crystal Depths as Revealed to the Observer.

It was a little parrot fish that started out so briskly on this summer morning.

Whether he was eager to keep an appointment or had been unexpectedly summoned to a distant part of his world one will never know, but one may be certain that the matter was of the greatest consequence so far as the little fish was concerned. Keeping his bright eyes fixed straight ahead, he passed a corner of the reef where the coral was incrustated with mollusks and sea urchins and where a pair of beautiful squirrel fish, deeply engrossed in sentimental affairs, turned to look after him wonderingly through their enormous eyes.

Below in a deep pool a school of spotted trunkfish played headlessly, while under a projecting plate of staghorn coral a huge grouper waited expectantly, but as the parrot fish, warned of his danger, turned quickly away he gave his attention to a pair of gray snappers—great, quiet, ghostly figures that seemed like two shadows drifting along far down through the green waters.

A few feet farther on and the hurrying parrot fish passed a tall sea fan, around which three dainty butterfly fish, clad brilliantly in yellow, were peering into each nook and corner in their search for small prey, while a sober cowfish, with his two conspicuous horns, looked on seditiously. Suddenly the parrot fish turned sharply aside to avoid a spot where the reef was broken by jutting rocks covered with green ulva. Around this a school of bright little zebra striped sergeant majors were sporting, while just to the right an angelfish, whose blue body tipped with gold first attracted the attention of the mariners so many centuries ago, sailed from under a purple gorgonia with a disdainful air.—Metropolitan Magazine.

When a girl wants the gas turned down in the parlor it is not a sign that she is ashamed of her looks.

DANGER SIGNALS.

No engineer would be mad enough to run by the flag which signaled danger. It is different with the average man or woman. They attempt constantly to run by the danger signals of Nature and that attempt costs thousands of lives every year. When the appetite becomes irregular or entirely gives out when sleep is troubled and broken, when there is a constant feeling of dullness and languor, Nature is holding the danger signal. The stomach and its allied organs are failing in their work and the body is losing the nutrition on which its strength depends.

Such a condition calls for a prompt use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, purifies and enriches the blood and builds up the body with sound, solid flesh.

"I have had so much benefit from your medicines as to say a few words that you may use in your publication," writes Mrs. J. R. Downes, Crystal Lake, Conn. "I had been troubled with a complication of diseases for over two years, but kidneys and liver bothered me most. Some of my worst ailments were headache, frequent pains around heart and under right shoulder-blade. My hands and feet were cold nearly all the time, and I had such chilliness between shoulders. Some days I could not eat for food. I lost flesh; felt so tired and miserable it seemed I couldn't do any housework. Took medicine from my physician, but received no benefit. Bought a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and after taking it I felt so much better we determined to give it a fair trial. Appetite soon improved and gradually the disorders disappeared until now I am well."

A Great Doctor Book Free.—Send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Medical Discovery, to cover cost of mailing only and we will send you a free copy of his 108-page Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper-covered. Cloth-covered 31 stamps.

HUTTON'S ONE RECIPE.

It included a Paper Cutter, Ink Eraser and Rubber Bands.

Perhaps the most ingenious and the most original of all schemes for procuring autographs was from a lady in a western town. She was raising funds for the building and support of a public library, and she had conceived the idea of issuing a volume to be called "The Authors' Recipe Book." Authors from all over the country, the most distinguished of authors—always authors with a capital A—had been good enough to send her a list of the favorite dishes of their own construction, with their method of making them.

The cookbook was one of the many forms of literature to which the recipient had never turned his attention. He had no more idea of cooking than he had of milking a cow or of harnessing a horse or of setting a hen or of building a dynamo. He did not even care what was cooked for him so long as it contained none of the ingredients of tripe and none of the essence of tomato. But he was asked to contribute a paper, which she would have reproduced in facsimile, stating what he could prepare most to his liking upon a kitchen range or in a chafin dish, with his manner of procedure. This quite unpolished but well-bethought himself of one particular and peculiar delicacy in the evolution of which he could safely trust his reputation as an expert. In reply, for which he received no thanks, he said:

"Take a long paper cutter; attach to the same by means of rubber bands, and securely, an ink eraser; insert the ink eraser firmly into a marshmallow plug and hold the same over a student's lamp or study fire until the marshmallow begins to sizzle, drops into the ashes, puts out the light or burns your hand. And eat while hot!"

He has never seen a copy of "The Authors' Recipe Book"—Laurence Hutton in Critic.

Flow of Spirits in Youth.

How unaccountable the flow of spirits in youth. You may throw sticks and dirt into the current and it will only rise the higher. Dump it up you may, but dry it up you may not, for you cannot reach its source. If you stop up this avenue or that, anon it will come gurgling out where you least expected and wash away all fixtures. Youth grasps at happiness as an insatiable right. The tear does no sooner gush than glister. Who shall say when the tear that sprung of sorrow first sparkled with Joy?—H. D. Thoreau in Atlantic.

FOR BOTH

One disease of thinness in children is scrofula; in adults, consumption. Both have poor blood; both need more fat. These diseases thrive on leanness. Fat is the best means of overcoming them; cod liver oil makes the best and healthiest fat and is the easiest and most effective form of cod liver oil. Here's a natural order of things that shows why Scott's Emulsion is of so much value in all cases of scrofula and consumption. More fat, more weight, more nourishment, that's why.

The Greatest American Two-Cylinder Touring Car Ever Sold FOR $1550.00

This car is superior in design and speed, to many of the best two-cylinder cars built in 1904—cars which sold for from $2000 to $3500.

20-H. P. Oldsmobile Touring Car

This is the latest Oldsmobile creation—a 20-H. P. two-cylinder touring car with side entrance. Double opposed motor 5 1/2 x 6, 30-inch wheel base, noise of exhaust completely eliminated. It combines comfort with speed, hill-climbing ability and plenty of surplus power.

It is roomy and comfortable. Its distributed weight and long spring action permit it to run smoothly over rough country roads with comfort and ease. This ease of spring saves tire expense and general wear and tear.

It is very easily controlled and is quick in action. It runs on high speed up to 40 miles an hour. This machine is very popular in San Francisco as it has the power to take heavy grades on high speed. This space is too limited to give full description of the whole story is told, however, when we say "There is no other $1550.00 machine of its class to equal it." Let us prove this to you.

Don't forget that our French Type Runabout at $800.00 (E. O. B. San Francisco) has no equal. Our Oldsmobile (2000.00) is a standard "Office car." Our Tonneau ($1500.00) is a good slow speed family car. Altogether we have twelve types of machines. Oldsmobiles run the year through and run for years. The wear and tear expense is $1.00 to $3.00 for other makes.

Our WINTON Four-Cylinder Touring Cars have all cars of their class "down to the last nail"—4 Models, 16 to 30 H. P. $1050 to $4650

FIGHTING CHRISTIANS.

General Nogi and General Kuroki are members of the Presbyterian Church. Field Marshal Oyama's wife is also a member in good standing of that denomination. Admiral Togo is a Roman Catholic. Other instances of the high Japanese officials being Christians might be noted. No country in the world possesses to-day a larger measure of religious liberty than does Japan. That is one of the secrets of her success and progress during the latter years.

A much theory for Dr. Osler would have been that all water retain their age after 35.

Secretary Taft is busier than a bird dog. He is acting president and has charge of two cabinet portfolios.

Who says the Turks are not a progressive people? They have learned the American art of lynching.

Tulare county has put in a claim for the University farm. Modoc and Alpine counties are yet to be heard from.

Municipal ownership, as applied to Chicago, must be based upon the well-known therapeutic principle, "heal thyself."

The personnel of the new isthmian canal commission shows very plainly that President Roosevelt is not always hunting for jack-rabbits.

Chicago will proceed to give the country an object lesson in settling the question of municipal ownership right away, if not sooner.

The New York World calls President Roosevelt "the radius of American politics." He is certainly a bright and shining light.

After all, the most effective regulation of the use and speed of automobiles is courtesy, caution and common sense on the part of the operator at the lever.

President Roosevelt captured a prairie wolf by holding its jaws so it could not bite. Now let him try the same device on some of the gray wolves of the Senate.

Field Marshal Oyama says he is a soldier, not a politician; nevertheless he possesses in a marked degree the leading characteristic of all great politicians—the ability to hold his tongue.

The snow having melted off, the Southern California papers are again boasting lustily of their "sapphire skies and golden sunshine." The habit of years is not easily broken off.

The Iowa woman who has given birth to twins at the age of 65 deserves to be elected president of the Mothers' Congress. She is strenuous as President Roosevelt in her opposition to race suicide.

Fashion decrees that the derby hat shall have a narrow brim. There is nothing that adds to the impressiveness of a tall, lean-faced man as a derby hat with a rim about as wide as a lead pencil.

That proposed statute of Tom Reed in Portland, Maine, should have some feature that would perpetuate his famous counting of a quorum. The sculptor's model is described as having one foot forward, but Tom always got there with both feet at last.

In a recent Arizona pistol duel the principals opened their revolvers without hitting anybody. In discharging them from custody, the local magistrate remarked that their "marksmanship was a disgrace to Arizona." Has the editor of the Kicker been elected to the bench down there?

"You can not make men good by legislation." This quite true, but as Wendell Phillips was once said, the object of remedial legislation and its value is to make racially harder. Laws, however, admirable, will not make a thief honest, but they do render it more difficult for him to ply his trade.

NO RACE SUICIDE THERE.

"Where have you been, Frank?"
"In Oakland."
"What were you doing there?"
"I ran a photograph gallery."
"Did you get anything to do?"
"Well, I should say I did. I put out a sign, 'Babies taken here,' and next morning there were four of them on the front doorstep."

A Hundred Dollar Prize.

Geo. C. Ross of this city has offered $100 to the team from Stanford University or the University of California which wins the intercollegiate debate to be held in San Francisco this evening. Mr. Ross takes great interest in the affairs at the universities and is always ready to do his share towards promoting an interesting rivalry.

Their Marriage a Failure.

Thursday in the Superior Court Helen Robinson was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from her husband, George A. Robinson. She was allowed alimony in the sum of $25 a month and counsel fees to the amount of $100. The plaintiff resides in the city and Mr. Robinson has recently taken up his residence in San Francisco.

Again in Business.

After an absence of over a year from the local field, C. Uhlenberg has again entered our business life and intends by close application to his custom and by handling the best quality of provisions to regain the large patronage he formerly enjoyed. Mr. Uhlenberg purchased, last week, the grocery business of Harry Brace. Mr. Brace was doing a good business but desired a change and so disposed of his interests to Mr. Uhlenberg when that gentleman made him a very good offer. The stock in the store will all be disposed of at cut rates and new fresh groceries will be put upon the shelves which will be dealt out in generous quantities to all who enter the fine new store on the corner of Main and Stambaugh streets.

C. G. Landscheidt of the Redwood City Realty Co. has sold the Dr. Spies residence on the Woodside road to Mrs. E. J. Howard of San Francisco, for $10,250. Mrs. Howard has recently engaged Mr. R. Brown to make extensive alterations in the place, and when finished it will be one of the prettiest homes on the road. The same company was also interested in two other sales this week.

The Frank Cooke Company played at the Alhambra, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Their performances were uniformly good and were deserving of a much larger audience than they received. As is usually the case Mr. Cooke was the star actor in each performance and portrayed his character pleasingly on each occasion. Gladys Kingsbury as leading lady very creditably fulfilled her part and acting was a feature which added much to the interest of the play.

Charles Snyder and Harry Starr were each given sixty days in the county jail Thursday on a charge of vagrancy. The men were loitering around the Lusher building Monday when one of the workmen lost his watch which was in a vest that he had temporarily laid aside and when he went to put on the vest he discovered the loss of his timepiece. The officers were notified and they arrested the two men at Fair Oaks but did not find the watch in their possession. It is supposed that they buried it. There was no evidence to convict them on a felony charge.

The trustees of the grammar school are contemplating selling the structure in the rear of the school yard, now occupied by Mr. Benson and by Mr. Rumbold. Should they do this a much larger school yard would be secured by the pupils, who are now somewhat crowded for space. The house, which was one of the finest in Redwood City, has needed painting and repairs badly, and so long as it was not deemed advisable to fix it up, it will improve the appearance of the school premises greatly to have it removed.

W. J. Dingee has commenced operations for the laying out of a park on the block between his beautiful country home and the railroad track. He has disposed of the three buildings on the property and they will soon be removed. John Curran secured the home in which he lived so long and moved it to a new location on Arguello street. Mr. Reynolds secured the adjoining house and will have it moved to his Arguello street lot. A. Hess purchased the building used as a soda works and will move it to a lot near the Tacoma Milling Company's yard. As soon as these structures are out of the way Mr. Dingee will have walks and lawns laid out, which will greatly improve that section. He will also have trees, flowers and shrubbery planted and make a lovely little park.

Mr. Dingee is a citizen whom Redwood City may well feel proud of having in her midst. He is public spirited and wishes to make the neighborhood of his home the garden spot of our town.

The Redwood City orchestra commenced the practice of some new and difficult music last Tuesday night at its regular rehearsal. By faithful practice the orchestra has reached a high state of efficiency and it is a pleasure to listen to its music. Each member enters heartily into the work, and as a result the harmonies produced are perfect. It is not many towns of Redwood size that can boast so good a musical organization.

The Foresters of America are sparing no pains or expense to make their dance on the 29th one of the pleasantest ever given in this town. Efficient committees have been appointed who are looking after every detail, that a full round of pleasure may be enjoyed on the evening of the dance. Some of the boys have made the boast that the dance will be the best ever given in Redwood, and other members of the Court say that they will help to make it such.

A large delegation from Indianola council, Degree of Poshonates, journeyed to San Mateo last Saturday night and adopted a number of palefaxes into El Cerito council. The work was pretty carried out and won the applause of the San Mateo tribeswomen. At midnight a hearty repast was indulged in and continued until 12:30, when the returning theatre-train bore the local chieftainesses to their homes here.

Hose Company No. 1 is busy every week on drill work and in practice runs with the cart. The young fellows who lately joined the pioneer company are showing laudable spirit in attempting to drill each member into a first-class fireman. This branch of the fire department has decided to accept San Mateo's invitation to participate in the Fourth of July festivities.

Patsie Kease, who hurt his hand at the depot last week, returned to his place at the freight shed the first of the week, but was unable to continue as his hand became much worse than before. He is now giving it very careful medical attention, and hopes to have it in good condition in a short time.

An extra large shipment of leather was made this week by the Frank Tanning Co. to Japan. The Japanese are now using enormous quantities of leather, both for shoes and cavalry equipment, and it keeps the local manufactory full handed to supply the weekly demands for leather.

The degree team of Metamora tribe of Redmen went to San Mateo and gave the work to several palefaxes who were seeking admission to Delano tribe in that city. After the initiation a banquet was served, which was highly enjoyed by all present.

Olie Johnson is having a fine, large ice chest built in his Woodside butcher shop, in which to store his meats during the summer weather. A. J. Beer Sr. is doing the work.

The Southern Pacific Company has put in a new contrivance on the instruments at the local depot. The little affair is run by clockwork and if the key is left open by mistake it is closed after a minute and a half.

The boys' team from here will play the Mayfield team a game of baseball at Mayfield to-morrow afternoon. A good game is expected and many of the young local sports will take it in.

Thomas Miller, formerly of this city, but now a resident of Palo Alto, has purchased the parcel serving business of Mr. Weishaar and will make daily trips to and from the college town.

The Knights of the Temperate Maccabees have changed their meeting night from Tuesday, to the second and fourth Wednesdays.

Alvin Hatch and John Gilchrist were over from the coast last Saturday and Sunday attending to some business.

There will be a free-for-all blue rock shoot at Wellesley Park to-morrow afternoon. No one barred.

Mrs. Serge of Chicago is in Redwood City visiting her friend, Mrs. E. Gardner.

Miss Elsie Glenwood is here from the city this week with her aunt, Mrs. F. Wilson.

The Misses Brittan Entertain.
The Misses Brittan entertained a number of friends last Saturday night at their beautiful San Carlos home. The grounds were decorated with numbers of Chinese lanterns which produced a very pretty effect. Dancing was the order of the evening until 12 o'clock when the guests partook of refreshments. The young hostesses are good entertainers and all present enjoyed a fine time.

Improving the Road.
The grade on the Woodside road is being materially lessened in place and much work will soon be done to make that highway one of the most beautiful in the State. At the worst point of the road, near where the stage went over some years ago, a concrete wall will be built up from some distance below the road to three feet above, making a good protection from danger. It is understood that private capital will be expended to do this work as certain rich gentlemen who live near Woodside wish to have the road as beautiful and safe as possible.

A Builder's Contract.
A builder's contract was filed in the Recorder's office this week. By its terms George B. Moore is to erect a six-room cottage for Joseph P. Ahlert on his lot in the Mills tract, Menlo Park, in eighty working days. The stipulated price, which does not include the excavating, concrete foundation, painting and plumbing, is $2317. The architect is Mr. Oliver of Palo Alto.

Town Trustees.
No business of importance was transacted by the Town Trustees at their meeting Monday night. No applications for licenses under the new ordinance were asked for, though it had been expected that such might be the case. The salary of Nightwatchman Coleman was raised $10, as it was shown that his duties are now more arduous than they formerly were.

A FAREWELL RECEPTION.
Dancing Party at the Capital Hotel.

Last Thursday night a farewell reception was given to Mr. A. J. Fromm and his wife were given a farewell reception Thursday night by their many friends and guests of the Capital Hotel, over whose destinies Mr. Fromm has presided for the past four years. The large diningroom was tastefully decorated in bright colors, and big bunches of sweet-smelling flowers here and there added their beauty to the scene. After the supper hour was over the diningroom was cleared for dancing, and as the sweet strains of the Redwood City Orchestra swelled through the spacious eating place all were lost in the mazy waltz.

A delightful feature of the evening's entertainment was the singing of Dr. and Mrs. Cunningham. At 12 o'clock refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Fromm were the recipients of the well wishes for future success by all present.

Mr. Fromm retires to-day and gives way to W. H. Kinne, who assumes the management of the hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Fromm carry with them the best wishes of the people of Redwood City.

Sues to Secure a Deed.
John G. Whelan has begun action in the Superior Court against H. K. Magoon to secure a deed to lots 6, 7, 8, 9, in the City Extension Homestead Association. The complaint alleges that on January 6th of this year the plaintiff entered into a contract with H. K. Magoon to sell the property for $1000. That the February following he agreed in writing to buy the property for that sum and by direction of defendant deposited the sum of $250 with Wells, Fargo & Co. to be forwarded to Los Angeles and the balance to be forthcoming when the title was searched. Last March the deeds were sent to Los Angeles but defendant failed to execute them, for the reason that he demanded $1400. Plaintiff having carried out his part of the contract asks that the Court compel defendant to execute the deeds to the property in his favor.

Carpenters Union, 1408.
The local carpenters met in the Wahl hall Tuesday night and formed a local union, numbered 1408. The members had all previously belonged to the union at Menlo Park but decided to withdraw from that body and form a local lodge. Twenty-five men signed the roll at the meeting and it is expected that about twenty more will be taken in at the next regular meeting. The officers elected were: H. W. Lampkin, president; R. Svins, vice president; T. H. Graves, financial secretary; George Christ, recording secretary; Theodore Elvin, treasurer; J. A. Peterson, warden; Edward Gould, Charles Soderquist, Charles Locker, trustees.

The estate consists of block 36 in the Western Addition to San Mateo; lot 3 in block 28 in the same subdivision; three hundred dollars in the Hibernia Bank and personal property valued at $150, and a claim against the City of San Mateo for $65. The estate does not exceed the sum of $7500 in value. The heirs-at-law are Agnes A. Gilligan, Thomas J. Gilligan, Mary T. Lyons, Hannah E. Lyons, Mary E. Gilligan.

An Exciting School Election Held at Woodside—They Did Not Elope from La Honda.

WOODSIDE, April 14.—Miss Frances Earley, a popular young lady of Woodside, will soon depart for Santa Cruz, where she has accepted a position as book-keeper for a local firm.

A dance has been announced for the 6th of May.

Miss Edith Bottinger has been appointed census marshal in Greensburg district. C. K. McIntosh is making extensive alterations to his pretty home. J. Scanlan is doing the work.

Miss Anna Meyer and Miss Freda Dahl have gone to San Francisco, where they intend learning the hair-dressing trade.

Greensburg school district reopened last Monday, after the spring vacation. The schoolhouse has been painted and given a general overhauling.

Wm. Cassie, the popular poundmaster, was up this week to see his many friends. Cassie is well liked by all, still some of us feel easier when he stays away.

Thomas Early has gone to Santa Cruz to take charge of a mill owned by himself instead of Grace of Palo Alto as was published in last week's issue.

Colonel Preston and family have moved down from the city to spend the summer here at their handsome home, perhaps the finest in the State. Mr. Preston is delighted with Portola valley and loves to pass his leisure moments there.

A lovely daughter has come to bless the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wilson (nee Kelly). Naturally young Wilson is proud of the girl and predicts great things for her. He says she is going to be a schoolmarm like her mother.

The manner in which some of the automobiles travel down the grade is very dangerous to the public, but it seems as the laws stand now nothing can be done to punish the careless drivers.

M. Lynch, the Menlo Park nurseryman, has leased five acres on the Halli-de place to raise chrysanthemums for the market. It is a sheltered nook free from frost in winter and autumn winds, so that Mr. Lynch believes he can grow very late chrysanthemums that will surpass any in the market.

The school election last Friday was the most exciting election held in years. Edward Fike, the well known manager of Hazelwood Hills, received a handsome majority over Henry Koop. A better selection could not have been made.

LA HONDA.

LA HONDA, April 11.—Last Saturday morning, standing before Hotel La Honda was a yellow colored vehicle with a white horse in the bridle. Under the seat were two suit cases and other articles that gave evidence of a hasty departure. This combination, so neatly arranged with all the requisites of a prolonged tour, caused the curiosity of the hotel folks to jump over the traces and fathom such an unusual occurrence at the ungainly hour of 8 a. m. They had to be satisfied, however, when told that the carriage was to convey some guests to Redwood City, there to make some purchases. This, too, was made the more convincing when Miss Carolyn Johnson and Mr. Chesterfield De Malan vouched for the story as they pulled the dust robe over themselves and slowly moved away. The crowd on the veranda wondered whether they had been dreaming, or whether such an early morning occurrence could really have happened in "wakaful" La Honda. The "purchasing" dodge didn't appeal to Len Sears as being true and correct; in fact he had good grounds for not believing the tale, as everything indicated an elopement. So, promptly voicing his sentiments, he quickly passed around the rice and beans he had bought for the occasion, and while the crowd pelted the schoolteacher and the musician, he securely attached to the rear of the carriage a large oil can that kept up a clatter long after the yellow wheels were out of sight. Len explained to the questioning guests that the "life and spirit" of the hotel had slipped through their hands and had gone to the valley to be "tied." There were a few pale faces at this announcement, for others besides Miss Carolyn had had their eyes on the man that handled the violin.

Somewhat all along the line everyone was out with the glad hand, with hearty greetings for eloping "purchasers." The fair maid at De Malan's side endeavored to keep back the telltale flushes when some new burst of applause met them; it was useless, however, and the poor girl had to cover the long drive with a red face. The most demonstrative approval of the elopement awaited the white horse and yellow buggy at Woodside. Here De Malan pulled up at watering trough in front of Jack Williamson's hotel. About the place were a goodly number of people whom De Malan, who had stepped to the ground to lower the check, considered the usual patrons that daily visited the Woodside pleasure resort. De Malan had his back to the crowd, the young lady likewise, affording ample opportunity for the serenaders to begin their work. First, like a heavy storm approaching, the drops hit the carriage thudily, but soon increased from rice and beans to bottles and tin cans. To assure the couple of no hard feeling, the crowd filled the buggy with old boots and shoes, and occasionally slipped in a frying pan or some other kitchen utensil that might come in handy later on. Confused and embarrassed the couple started on their way, not even thanking the generous Whiskey Hill folks for their tokens of approval. Jack Williamson didn't let them get away, however, without paying his personal respects. He had been watching through a knot-hole in the fence while the bombardment was on, and as the enemy retreated he thought it best to make peace, so stepping to the road he offered his hand in congratulation, which was heartily accepted, seeing no other way out of the dilemma. De Malan wouldn't drink to the health of the bride-to-be, saying that for four months he hadn't touched the cup. With sweet smiles and another rousing send-off the carriage disappeared down the grade.

Things looked different to the "runaways" as they came upon Five Points—and felt different, too—when another shower of rice met them. At the young lady's home several classmates awaited her and with a kiss, each inquired if the man in the yellow buggy was the lucky chap. Meanwhile De Malan drove down the street toward Gates' store, where he purchased his wedding suit. From there he went to the railroad station, but there he found no getting away from the clatter and din of the tin pans and wash boilers. With fire in his eye he headed the horse toward the hills, wishing that he had come to Redwood at once, thus avoiding the gatherings on each street corner, who seemed to know his every move.

In the carriage, an hour later, the elopers were headed for the mountains, where they expected to have some peace. Both were depressed from the excitement; De Malan's face was long. Miss Carolyn's eyes showed sadness. The day's affair kept their minds busy, and thoughtlessly De Malan approached the railroad crossing without the precaution of looking up and down the track. He came to his senses—both of them did—when a handcar struck the carriage, throwing the horse to the ground and causing severe injury to the dumb brute. The horse managed to limp along, so between its bumps and its thro's the "runaways" slipped into the village where love affairs are rare and elopements are too remote to talk about.

Next day, Sunday, Len Sears had the horse medicine busy all day endeavoring to keep his mountain climber out of the grave. The poor creature had made a good run for the "love stakes" but had lost, and truly he felt it from the battered condition that was undergoing Doctor Sears' applications. Both the "runaways" kept shady all day; in fact Miss Carolyn was confined to bed, while De Malan, a little more courageous, ventured out with his new suit of clothes and took good naturedly the joke that was on him. Strange to relate, Miss Carolyn was much distressed, while others were glad, that the whole thing was a put-up job by Len Sears, and no reality at all whatever.

A COAST RAILROAD.
Company organized to build from Pescadero to Santa Cruz.

It appears that the long cherished dream of the people of the coast side to have a railroad is about to be realized. For many years there has been much talk of building a road down the coast to Santa Cruz; but nothing tangible came forth to construct the line, that could not be erected very well on "hot air."

The Southern Pacific has finally incorporated a company to build a road south along the coast via Pescadero, between San Francisco and Santa Cruz. The road will be eighty miles long, with a branch twenty miles in length between Pescadero and Boulder, a station on the South Pacific narrow-gauge in the Santa Cruz mountains.

The company was incorporated yesterday for $5,000,000. The directors are all Southern Pacific officials as follows: Chief counsel, W. F. Herri; chief engineer, William Hood; solicitor, Peter F. Dunne; treasurer, N. T. Smith; secretary, L. R. Wilcutt.

The Southern Pacific Company already has two lines to Santa Cruz, both going via San Jose. Between the broad-gauge line via San Mateo and the coast there is a section of country consisting of small, fertile valleys and rugged mountain scenery. It is said to be an ideal scenic route, and several coteries of electric and steam road promoters have within the past two or three years figured on building lines in that country. The Southern Pacific people have therefore incorporated to build and thus possibly get rid of a competing line to Santa Cruz.

A Good Law.
One of the good things done by the recent Legislature was the passing of a new High School law. The constitutional amendment three years ago made High Schools a part of the State school system, but failed to provide adequately for their maintenance.

Our High School, for instance, under the previous law, was compelled to admit outsiders, but forfeited State aid if it charged them tuition. Under the new law, the school board can charge outsiders a tuition, if they wish, as large as the difference between the amount per student of State aid ($12 or $15) and the amount per student that it costs to maintain the High School—this sum being about $35.

So that next year our school board will be at liberty to collect about $20 apiece from outside students.

It ought to be added that the main features of this law were suggested by the State High School Association that met in San Jose last December.—Santa Clara News.

You will find at Clare's millinery parlors in San Mateo between now and Easter over two hundred styles of trimmed hats to select from ranging in price from 75 cents to $10. The styles are exactly the same as you would pay one-third more for in San Francisco. Your patronage is solicited with the understanding that you will get every dollar worth your pay for.

An inch of smile is better than a yard of frown.

The Auction Sale.
The auction sale at Menlo Park last Saturday drew a large crowd from San Francisco. The sale commenced at 1 o'clock and the bidding was very brisk. Most of the lots brought good prices, and several of the choicest were secured by local men. We understand that several of the purchasers will commence the erection of homes very soon.
